Office Action Summary

Art Unit: 2154

1. Claims 41-78 are presented for examination.
2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless --

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371C of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

3. Claims 41,42,49-51, 54-56, 62,63,69, and 73-75 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Nuygen (6,058,465).

Nuygen was cited by applicant on paper no. 19.

Nuygen taught the invention (claims 41 and 42) as claimed including a method for loading a first vector of N-bit elements and a second vector of N-bit elements, executing an arithmetic instruction for at least a pair of the N-bit elements; writing the results to an M-bit element of the accumulator; transforming the resulting element to N-bits and writing to a third register (see abstract, col. 185-col.186, first paragraph of section titled Description., figure 6A).

As to claim 55, Nuygen taught that N is equal to 8 or 16 (abstract).

As to claim 56, Nuygen taught that N-bit element are integers (abstract).

As to claim 51, Nuygen taught the arithmetic instruction was one of addition, multiplication or subtraction (col. 185-col.186, Multiply and Accumulate Low).

As to claim 54, Nuygen taught adding an element previously stored in said accumulator to said resulting element (col. 186-187).

Art Unit: 2154

As to claim 60, Nuygen taught the register are floating point registers (610).

As to claims 49-50, Nuygen taught the operands are formatted as specified by the instruction (col. 186-187, see section titled mode)

As to claims 62,63,69, 70 and 73-75, fail to teach or define above or beyond claims 41,42,49-51, and 54-56; and are rejected for the reasons set forth, supra.

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 45-46,57-59, 61, 65,<sup>66</sup> and 76-78 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Nuygen (6,058,465) as applied to claims 41,42,49-51, 54-56, 62,63,69, and 73-75 above, and further in view of official notice.

The exact size of the individual register and accumulator are presumed to be within the skill of the art as applicant has failed to supply any detailed enablement, to allow one of skill in the art to make and or use the invention if they were not.

As to the ratio of claims 45, 58 and 65,77.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to implement the accumulator in a integer multiply of the register size to allow for multiply precision thereby increasing the accuracy of the operation.

Art Unit: 2154

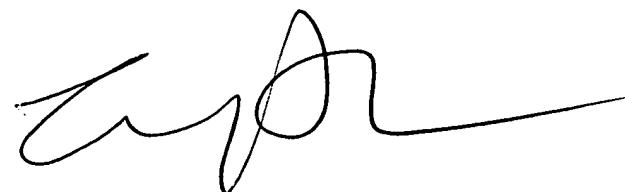

6. Claims 47-48,52-53, ~~56~~-68 and 71-70 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

The prior art of record fails to define these further claimed elements in response to an arithmetic operation.
